

Karim Yaici

Lead Industry Analyst

Click image to download profile pic

Karim Yaici leads Ookla's research efforts in the Middle East and Africa, developing influential reports and insights that leverage the company's connectivity intelligence data.

A seasoned consultant and market research manager, Karim has 14 years of experience serving clients across the Middle East and Europe. Before joining Ookla, he worked with top-tier firms including Analysys Mason, Omdia, and Vodafone Group. Karim's academic background includes a PhD in Human-Computer Interaction from the University of Surrey in the UK, as well as masters degrees in Telecommunications and Information Systems Management.